WELCOME

Welcome to the U.S. Army Maneuver Support Center and Fort Leonard Wood, where all chemical, engineer and military police Soldiers, plus many Marines, Airmen, Sailors, Coastguardsmen and international students from allied nations receive training. The post is also the home of the 3rd Training Brigade, where thousands of new recruits receive their basic training every year. In 1999, the U.S. Army Chemical and Military Police schools moved to Fort Leonard Wood from Fort McClellan, Alabama.

Fort Leonard Wood, in the beautiful south central Missouri Ozarks, covers more than 61,000 acres. The fort is located in Pulaski County, which has a population of nearly 38,320. Bordering the installation to the north are the towns of Waynesville and St. Robert, with an estimated combined population of 4,937. The post is two miles south of Interstate 44. St. Louis is a 2-hour drive to the east along I-44 and Springfield, MO, is a little more than an hour's drive to the west.

A strong bond exists between Fort Leonard Wood and surrounding communities. Post residents participate in Chamber of Commerce activities, parades, festivals, speaking engagements, civic meetings and social gatherings to tell Missourians how much they consider themselves a part of the regional community, and that they want to be good neighbors. More than 100,000 people visit Fort Leonard Wood's Museums each year, and officials expect the number of visitors to increase as the facility's collection of historical artifacts continues to grow. One of the museum's unique projects is the restoration of a World War II company area that features a dining facility, barracks, company headquarters and officer quarters from the 1940s.

INFORMATION

Fort Leonard Wood operates an Welcome Center, (573)-596-0590, located to the right of the main gate where the duty officer will give directions, unit and activity locations and telephone numbers. (Note: unless otherwise indicated, all telephone numbers are in the 573 Area Code). The Welcome Center hours are now 24 hours every day.

More information is available at the Visitors Center in the MANSCEN Museum Complex, the post museum. The Visitors Center, which is open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and Saturday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., can be reached at 596-0780.

ORGANIZATION

The Maneuver Support Center (MANSCEN) and Fort Leonard Wood provide the nation with values-based individuals, leaders, and teams trained in basic combat skills and Chemical, Engineer, Military Police, and transportation disciplines that are prepared for success in any future operational environment. MANSCEN develops concepts, doctrine, force structure, materiel requirements, and experiments to ensure the vitality of the Chemical, Engineer, and Military Police Regiments.

Vision:

- America's Premier training center.
- A values-based, multi-disciplined, relevant and innovative team.
- Ensuring the well-being of all our people.
- An active civic partner in the Ozarks.
- Providing exceptional service to our nation.
- · Ready for new challenges.

GETTING HERE

Whether by car, bus or plane, it's easy to get to Fort Leonard Wood. If driving, the most direct route is by Interstate 44, which runs from St. Louis to Oklahoma City. About halfway between the cities of Lebanon (population: 9,980) and Rolla (population: 14,100) are the St. Robert, Waynesville and Fort Leonard Wood exits, with signs marking the route to the post. Take exit 161 for the easiest route to Fort Leonard Wood. If traveling by air to Lambert International Airport at St. Louis, car rental and bus transportation are available. American Connection, owned by Corporate Air Lines, offers direct flights to the post. Their telephone number is 329-3725 or 329-4981. Information and assistance for military personnel and their families are available at the United Services Organization in Lambert International Airport.

Greyhound Bus Lines has a terminal just off-post to serve arriving and departing passengers. Shuttle service operates from the post to the bus terminal. Their telephone number is 336-5913. To check fare and schedule information, please call 800-231-2222.

LOCAL SCHOOLS

The Waynesville R-VI School District serves all Fort Leonard Wood students. Private and parochial schools are also available in nearby communities. Preschool programs, including Parents as Teachers (newborns to age three), Parent and Child Education (ages three and four), and the Early Childhood Special Education Program (ages three and four) are available.

The Waynesville District operates six elementary schools on- post and the East Elementary School off-post. There is a middle school (grades six through eight) on the installation and one off-post. High school students attend Waynesville High School. Transportation to and from school is provided through a modern fleet of diesel buses, including students temporarily residing in guest housing. During the summer months, families receive enrollment information during in processing.

Schools normally begin during the third full week of August, and end the last week of May. Students may be enrolled at any time at the school they will attend. Parents should bring shot records and a current physical examination signed by a physician at the time of registration. Missouri law requires a student starting seventh grade to have at least started the Hepatitis B inoculation series. A birth certificate will be required to register kindergarten and first grade students. By Missouri law, a kindergarten student must be five vears old prior to 1 August and a first grader must be six years of age prior to 1 August in order to be registered for school. There are limited provisions for students transferring from accredited schools. Transferring students should bring academic records or copies from their previous school. The Waynesville School District will send for official records.

The Waynesville School District is a highly rated, award winning comprehensive school system. It is rated as Fully Accredited, with Distinction in Performance. The District has very proactive (and productive) grant and scholarship programs. Students graduating from Waynesville High School are successful applicants for prestigious universities, colleges and the service academies. For more information on schools on or near Fort Leonard Wood, contact the School Liaison Officer at 596-0357, look at local schools on the Fort Leonard Wood web page www.wood.army.mil, or go directly to the Waynesville School Districts web home page www.waynesville.k12.mo.us.

MEDICAL CARE

General Leonard Wood Army Community Hospital (GLWACH) is accredited by the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, the College of American Pathologists, the American College of Radiology, the American Association of Blood Banking, the Food and Drug Administration, and is a member of the American Hospital and Missouri Hospital Associations.

At GLWACH, the staff strives to provide excellent medical care in a kind and compassionate environment. They take seriously their stewardship of health care and mottos: Compassion and Courage and Military Healthcare Champions. The hospital is currently staffed for 75 inpatient-beds and offers a full range of medical services to include Family Practice, Internal Medicine, Pediatrics, General Surgery, Orthopedics, Urology, Ophthalmology, Optometry, Podiatry, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Audiology, Otolaryngology, Psychiatry, Psychology, Social Work, Neurology and Substance Abuse. In addition, the Radiology service provides a full range of services to include X-ray, Magnet Resonance Imaging (MRI), Ultra Sound, Mammography and Computed Tomography (CAT Scan). The Laboratory also provides a full range of inpatient and outpatient services. The Pharmacy is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and has outpatient and call-in refill service.

TRICARE PROGRAM

TRICARE Prime enrollment is available to all military health services beneficiaries under age 65 who reside in the GLWACH catchment area. Questions concerning TRICARE or eligibility for enrollment should be directed to the TRICARE Service Center at 329-8600. The TRICARE Service Center is located on the 6th floor of the hospital and open 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Beneficiaries enrolling in TRICARE Prime will be assigned a primary care manager in either the Family Practice Clinic or the Multispecialty Clinic (Internal Medicine and Pediatrics). Appointments for enrollment may be made from 7:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PATIENT REMINDER SYSTEM

Recent innovations further enhancing medical services for GLWACH beneficiaries include "Dr. Gil," which is an automated patient appointment reminder system. Dr. Gil calls patients between 5:30 p.m. and 8:55 p.m. the evening before their appointment. The system informs patients of the time and clinic where they are scheduled (for confidentiality purposes, minors and behavioral medicine patients only receive the time of their appointments). The system leaves reminder messages on answering machines and also allows the patient an opportunity to cancel or reschedule their appointment if necessary.

CIVILIAN HEALTH CARE FACILITIES

Off-post medical facilities provide a varied range of primary and specialty health care capability. There are six hospitals within the surrounding nine-county area, with a total inpatient capacity of more than 800-beds. The largest of these include the 259-bed Phelps County Regional Medical Center in Rolla, the 99-bed Lake of the Ozarks General Hospital in Osage Beach, and the new 41-bed Breech Medical Center in Lebanon. Specialty care is directed to either the University of Missouri Hospital and Clinics in Columbia or St. John's Hospital in Springfield.

ARMY COMMUNITY SERVICE

Located in Building 470 (Dillard Hall), the Army Community Service Center assists service members, retirees, Department of Defense employees and their families by providing in-depth information, referral and intervention services. These services typically involve individuals and their families seeking help with problems beyond the scope of their own resources. The Army Community Service Center also serves as the installation's primary social service agency, and provides commanders with current statistics, research and programs relating to military families.

Services offered at the Army Community Service Center:

Employment Readiness focuses on providing expert job search and skill building for military family members, with information available on local economy and job-related issues. Co-located with Employment Readiness is the Installation Volunteer Coordinators (IVC) office. The IVC provides information, placement and referral for individuals desiring to volunteer for any installation agency.

Relocation Readiness offers a wide array of relocation services, from information to in-depth relocation counseling. The office provides up-to-date information on any worldwide assignment, and features a loan closet of common household items to assist families arriving at or departing from the installation.

Soldier and Family Readiness primarily focus on healthy lifestyle issues in the areas of family, stress management, anger control, parenting, new parent support and education and the prevention of any form of family violence. It also provides advocacy and support for families with members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program.

Mobilization/Deployment, Stability and Support Operation provide commanders, service members and their families with the information, education and resources necessary to ensure unit readiness is fulfilled at 100 percent. The office offers military family members education through the Army Family Team Building curriculum and provides outreach initiatives to ensure the successful transition to a military lifestyle for young military families plus other initiatives for families progressing through military life.

Financial Readiness, saving, investing, and budgeting; these are all issues addressed in the Financial Readiness Office. Through individual appointments, small group classes or formal educational sessions, this service is able to provide families with the tools necessary to live on a military budget and still get ahead. The office also provides emergency financial assistance through the Army Emergency Relief.

The Alcohol and Drug Control Office provides education and prevention services to all military personnel and the local community on substance abuse. Services also include the installation's biochemical testing office, which aids commanders in providing a viable urinalysis deterrent program to combat illicit substance abuse. Education, prevention and intervention services are also available through the Employee Assistance Program for Department of Defense civilian employees.

The Army Community Service has a long and rich history with volunteers and the ACS Center always has a wide range of volunteer opportunities available for individuals wishing to have a valuable and productive volunteer experience.

SERVICES

and CD books, 300 paintings, 8,000 ebooks, a large map collection, a collection of unit histories, and many rare books. The library has a large collection of materials on current and historical military affairs, as well as non-fiction in many other subjects. The library also has adult, young adult and children's fiction, mysteries, science fiction, and westerns. There are collections of books in large print format as well as books in 15 foreign languages to include Korean, Spanish, Russian, Chinese, Japanese, German, Italian and dialects from the Indian sub-continent. Books in English and other languages not available in the Bruce C. Clarke library can be obtained through an online inter-library loan service. The Clarke library also loans materials to other libraries.

The Bruce C. Clarke Library provides a large number of online research and reference databases. Many of these are available to all users of the Fort Leonard Wood campus area network and most are also available through remote access at home and work to authorized library patrons. These include full text journals, magazines, newspapers, reference materials and e-books on a wide range of subjects. The LAC's Reference Services on the 2nd floor offers personalized, in-depth assistance by a reference librarian Monday - Friday.

Computers are available for use in the library by authorized library patrons and by military/civilian employees with Fort Leonard Wood authentication. The computers have standard office programs and Internet access. We also have children's computers with learning software programs. Call for more information on the rules for computer usage and access to the research databases.

The Learning Assistance Center's Technology Services serves as the Fort Leonard Wood Software Help Desk, providing assistance to personnel with problems or questions regarding computer software. Support is available for standard software packages that are found on most official computers, such as all Microsoft Office programs (Access, Excel, FrontPage, Outlook, PowerPoint, Word), and the staff will happily try to assist with other software problems as well. The computers located in the LAC offers a quiet place for personnel to take online training courses.

All software training is now computer based, and is offered via SmartForce/SkillSoft through AKO. The LAC has scheduled specific time for individuals to take Microsoft office courses in the LAC so that staff members are available to assist with questions or problems with the courses. Schedules and registration instructions/forms can be found at http://www.wood.army.mil/dcltsf/software-training.htm.

COMMISSARY

The Defense Commissary Agency's (DeCA) mission is to operate an efficient and effective commissary system that provides a non-pay benefit that improves the quality of life of patrons and enhances military readiness and the retention of quality personnel. The Fort Leonard Wood Commissary is a modern, state-of-the-art store built in 1991. The Commissary is located near the Main Exchange. Hours are: Sunday, 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.; Monday thru Friday, 7:00 am to 7:00 pm; Saturday, 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Special orders are processed by each department with 24-hour notice. For more information, call 596-0783.

POST EXCHANGE

The Fort Leonard Wood Main Post Exchange Shopping Center, Building 490, provides customers the convenience of one-stop shopping. In addition to the Main PX, the center houses barber and beauty shops, florist, laundry and dry cleaners, video arcade, optometry shop, two gift shops, shoeshine, car rental, photo processing and a large food court. A large catalog section for special orders and layaways is also available in the main store.

Food establishments provide a variety of refreshments, including Starbucks Coffee, Baskin Robbins, donuts, sandwiches, pizza, Church's Chicken and hot dogs. In a separate nearby complex, the Crawford Center houses clothing sales, class six and affordable furniture. Burger King is also near the Crawford Center.

Other facilities at convenient locations on-post include four AAFES branch exchanges in troop training areas, offering snacks, convenience items and a barber shop, plus two neighborhood convenience stores. The new shoppette, gas station, class-six, Burger King, and video rental serves the residents of Lieber Heights; the Michigan Avenue Shoppette (Specker) serves the residents of Piney Hills and Specker Barracks. There is also an eight-bay vehicle repair garage, with auto parts, convenience items and fuel dispensing on Missouri Avenue.

Facilities are open to all active-duty Soldiers, retirees, their family members and reservists. Food facilities are open to the public.AAFES plans to build a new PX complex by 2005. This new facility will contain more than 160,000 square feet of retail food and services. Also, in the Specker area, AAFES plans to build a new 7,000-square-foot retail convenience store, with fuel, a brushless car wash and a Blimpie's sandwich shop. For more information about any AAFES facility, call 596-1501.

EMPLOYMENT

More than 2,300 civilian employees provide valuable support in many occupations at Fort Leonard Wood. These Federal service employees work for the US Army Maneuver Support Center (MANSCEN), which includes the Chemical School, Engineer School, Military Police School, Garrison Command organizations and General Leonard Wood Army Community Hospital. Employment Information and assistance for these jobs can be obtained through the Missouri Career Center located in the Soldier Service Center, Building 470, Room 2203. The Center lists all Appropriated Fund and Nonappropriated Fund job openings and has application information and forms for announced vacancies. In addition, the Center provides job information for some contractor vacancies. Although they do not have vacancy listings for Army-Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) positions, they do provide applications for employment with AAFES (which includes work in the PX, clothing sales store, theaters and snack bars). The Missouri Career Center's phone number is 596-0294.

MANEUVER SUPPORT CENTER

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL (IG)

The Office of the Inspector General, located in Building 315, advises the commanding general on the readiness and morale of the command. The staff provides assistance on an area basis to commanders, Soldiers, family members, civilian employees, retirees, and others who seek help with problems related to the United States Army. The staff conducts inspections, inquiries and formal investigations as directed by the commanding general, TRADOC, the Secretary of the Army, the Chief of Staff of the Army, or the Department of the Army Inspector General.

The staff also conducts assistance site visits on post and to remote locations; performs systemic inspections of functional programs including training, logistics, management, community support activities, and mobilization; administers command climate surveys to assist commanders and directors in assessing the morale of the workforce; monitors the execution of the Installation Organizational Inspection Program and, through teaching and training, improves both inspector and unit capabilities; and provides instruction on the role and philosophy of the Inspector General. For more information call 596-0486.

DIRECTOR OF RESOURCE MANAGEMENT (DRM)

The Directorate of Resource Management (DRM) obtains and manages the manpower and fiscal resources required to support the U.S. Army Maneuver Support Center and Fort Leonard Woods goals in terms of units readiness and training, human needs, material modernization and future development. The staff provides program management for and assists and advises headquarters, staff and units concerning budgeting, manpower, commercial activities, civilian pay, productivity improvement and program and management analysis, providing liaison service between the installation and Defense Finance and Accounting Services (DFAS). For more information call 563-4057.

DIRECTOR OF COMMON LEADER TRAINING

The Directorate of Common Leader Training is responsible for MANSCEN level

instruction and instructional support. The Combined Arms Department provides common core, shared tactical instruction, and tactical simulation exercise support to MANSCEN professional development courses. They also operate both a radio and fire-support laboratories in support of their training. These facilities are also used as installation wide assets. The Professional Development Center conducts an inter-service instructor certification development program and they are also responsible for a wide variety of automation and civilian training offered on the installation. The Battle Simulation Center provides a wide variety of support for all constructive training simulations exercises and digital command and control systems for the MANSCEN professional development courses and regionally for those reserve components units and other government agencies conducting simulation training at Fort Leonard Wood. The Training Technology and Information Center operates and maintain a large number of high-technology instructional support services and facilities. They also manage the Bruce Clarke Library (see description in Services Section), which serves both the MANSCEN Schools and the entire FLW community. The Multi-Media Development and Delivery Center develops, contracts, and manages in-house high technology training product development that are used by our three schools.

MANSCEN EXECUTIVE SERVICES OFFICE (ESO)

The mission of the Executive Services Office is to provide the US Army Maneuver Support Center Command Element with continuing administrative, personnel and logistical support; to coordinate and execute all dignitary visits to the installation; to provide coordination and support for all protocol activities; and to provide speechwriting service for the Command Element. The Executive Services Office advises the senior leadership and installation staff on all matters relating to command policy, administration and protocol.

MANEUVER SUPPORT CENTER SAFETY OFFICE (MSO)

The Maneuver Support Center Safety Office (MSO) assists the Commanding General, commandants, subordinate commanders and civilian directors and supervisors in managing an effective safety program that identifies and eliminates or controls hazards. The staff develops safety programs and standards, evaluates unit and organization safety programs, inspects work areas, integrates risk management into all activities, performs system safety engineering, and teaches in the Chemical, Engineer and Military Police School. MSO is the installation safety management office and the proponent for the entire U.S. Army Engineer, Chemical and Military Police branches. For more information, call 596-0116.

ARMY RESERVE AND MOBILIZATION TRAINING

This Colonel position serves as the Senior Active Army National Guard representative to MANSCEN and Fort Leonard Wood, working directly for the Commanding General. This officer serves as the key staff officer or point of contact for all matters between the Commanding General and the Chief NGB and/or Director, Army National Guard. Assists the operational staffs of the 54 States and Territories Adjutants General in dealing with any problems arising with ARNG Soldiers assigned for training at Fort Leonard Wood. Additionally the senior advisor organizes the efforts of Active Guard/Reserve (AGR) staff for a unified ARNG effort, and provides mentorship and guidance to other ARNG AGR officers assigned to Fort Leonard Wood; acts as liaison to the field regarding questions on training, force structure, readiness, mobilization, and utilization of post facilities; reviews and makes recommendations on programs of instruction, force structure documentation, doctrine, publications/ regulations, and any other documents or initiatives which impact the Army National Guard.
- 2. Sergeant Major-ARNG. This Sergeant Major position serves as principal Army National Guard staff representative for enlisted issues. Serves as the Senior ARNG enlisted Soldier on FLW and advises the MANSCEN CSM, School CSMs and Brigade CSMs on issues that impact enlisted Soldiers. Responsible for the enlisted contribution to Total Force Integration at the MANSCEN and Fort Leonard Wood; fields all issues relating to ARNG IET Soldiers training at FLW, assists and supports all ARNG units and Soldiers utilizing FLW as a mobilization station or are in a hold status at the installation and repre- sents ARNG enlisted matters at CSM meetings, conferences, and workshops. Supervises all ARNG AGR Soldiers assigned to MANSCEN and Fort Leonard Wood; coordinates enlisted issues with NGB, States, TRADOC and assist the MANSCEN Chief of Staff ARNG in fulfilling ARNG missions, as required.

- 3. Deputy Director Training, Directorate of training Development, MANSCEN & Fort Leonard Wood. This Lieutenant Colonel (O-5) position serves as Deputy Director, and ARNG representative in the Directorate of Training Development, working directly for the Director, Training Development. Provides ARNG input on all DOTD actions. Serves as the single point of contact and action officer assisting NGB on all Engineer, Military Police, and Chemical Training Development initiatives. Assists National Guard State Force Integrators and Readiness Officers in dealing with training development issues. The position operates in the over-watch function for coordination, integration, and synchronization of the Army's training requirements within the DTLOMS domains, as they relate to and impact the Army National Guard.
- 4. Deputy Assistant Commandants ARNG, U.S. Army Chemical, Engineer, and Military Police Schools. These Lieutenant Colonel (O-5) positions serve as the senior National Guard representatives to the schools. One Lieutenant Colonel is assigned as Deputy Assistant Commandant at each school. Their primary duties involve serving as the key staff officer or point of contact for all matters between the school Assistant Commandant and/or Commandant and the staffs of the Chief, National Guard Bureau and Director, Army National Guard; counseling and advising and ARNG student officers and NCOs; answering inquiries from the field; reviewing and making recommendations on programs of instruction, force structure documentation, doctrine, publication/regulations, and any other documents/processes which may impact the ARNG; and instructing students at their respective schools.
- 5. ARNG Total Force Developer, Directorate of Combat Developments, Engineer School. This Lieutenant Colonel (O-5), position serves as Total Force

MANEUVER SUPPORT CENTER

Integrator at the Engineer School (USAES), Fort Leonard Wood for Reserve Component Dedicated Procurement Program (DPP). Works in the Directorate of Combat Developments (DCD). Primary duties involve force structure, concepts, doctrine development and Reserve Component DPP compatibility. Ensures documentation, employment and doctrinal development mission capability. Develops, reviews, and reports on equipment fielding plans, policies and programs that impact the Reserve Component. Serves as Liaison with HODA, MACOM, NGB, OCAR, and USARC on Engineer equipment development, procurement and fielding to Reserve Component units. Coordinates and interfaces with all respective Division Branches to provide RC expertise and representation during all phases of concept development, equipment determination, and organizational redesign.

6. Reserve Component Liaison NCOs (RCLNCO), MANSCEN & Fort Leonard Wood. The Reserve Component Liaison NCOs mission is to provide guidance, information and assistance where needed to remove training barriers or distracters which may be unique to Reserve Component Soldiers. The RCLNCO assists in keeping quality Army National Guard Soldiers in training. The Liaison staff at MANSCEN, FLW consist of five Master Sergeants (E-8) and six Sergeants First Class (E-7). One Master Sergeant is assigned as the Mobilization Liaison NCO, tasked with coordinating with and assisting any ARNG Soldiers mobilizing at or in a hold status at

FLW. One Senior Enlisted Liaison is assigned to FLW but detailed to Gulfport, MS as the ARNG Liaison for reserve component Soldiers in training at that installation. Because of troop density the Gulfport LNO is charged with supporting all Army Reserve Component Soldiers.

ARMY RESERVE

The Deputy Commanding General for Mobilization and Training (U.S. Army Reserve) assists in the training; deploy ability, and readiness of USAR units. Ensures DTLOMS requirements are coordinated with Reserve Components; assists in integration of the Total Army School System and distance learning initiatives; represents MANSCEN Commander during visits to annual training events; and reviews, analyzes, and recommends allocation of resources to support MANSCEN mobilization mission requirements. Active Guard/Reserve (AGR) Soldiers are attached to MANSCEN:

1. Army Reserve Chief of Staff. This Colonel position serves as the senior full time USAR representative within the Maneuver Support Center. Participates at the command group level in the formulation, development, implementation, and administration of all command policies and procedures directed at or impacting the USAR, and is responsible for Total Force Integration within MANSCEN, by ensuring that issues with USAR implications are identified, considered, and coordinated in all MANSCEN actions. Manages the command's AGR, Active Duty For Special Work, and Individual Mobilization Augmented programs, and ensures that the Chief, Army Reserve's policies and priorities are implemented.

- 2. Senior Staff Sergeant Major Army Reserve. This Sergeant Major position serves as principal USAR staff representative for enlisted Army Reserve issues. Responsible for the enlisted contribution to Total Force Integration at the MANSCEN and Fort Leonard Wood; represents USAR enlisted matters at CSM meetings, conferences, and workshops; oversees the utilization of enlisted USAR AGR Soldiers assigned to the MANSCEN and Fort Leonard Wood; coordinates enlisted issues with USAR units, TRADOC, USARC and OCAR; and assist the DCG and Chief of Staff in fulfilling USAR missions, as required.
- 3. Reserve Component Liaison NCO - Army Reserve. These senior NCOs assist commanders in the reception, processing, counseling and training management of USAR enlisted Soldiers attending their initial entry training. They are the central point of coordination and communication in matters pertaining to USAR enlisted Soldiers. They resolve problems with enlistment, reclassification, recycle actions of USAR Soldiers at the Reception Battalion, and support the training unit in reclassification, recycle, Entry Level Separation (ELS) counseling, coordination with USAR parent unit and assist them in resolving Soldiers problems.
- 4. USAR Total Force Integrators, Directorate of Combat Developments. Three AGR Lieutenant Colonels one for each of the branches, represent USAR interests pertaining to force structure, concepts and doctrine development.
- 5. USAR Total Force Integrator for Homeland Security, Directorate of Training Development. One Chemical Branch Major works in this directorate to support this critical program.
- 6. Mobilization and Training, Directorate of Plans, Training and Mobilization. A Lieutenant Colonel works in this directorate, coordinating AT, billeting, training areas, and mobilization for RC units and Soldiers. The USAR also has a total of 35 USAR units, with approximately 4,193 Soldiers assigned to mobilize at Fort Leonard Wood.

Approximately 2,000 of these Soldiers (17 units) are involved in Training Base Expansion. Annually, nearly 1000 Reservists from the 98th Division (IT) and 80th Division (IT) support the installation's training mission in the basic, AIT, and OSUT training organizations. In addition, Army Reservists (IMA and IRR) perform Annual Training as course developers, adjunct faculty, and for special projects. Fort Leonard Wood falls within the geographical responsibility of the 89th Regional Readiness Command (RRC), Wichita, KS. Units of the 89th RSC and the 95th Division (IT) Engineer Battalion occupy the U.S. Army Reserve Training Center located on Fort Leonard Wood. Additionally, Army School System Chemical Battalions from the USAR Divisions (IT) conduct critical training on Fort Leonard Wood, taking advantage of the world-class facilities to ensure RC training is performed to standard.

RESERVE COMP LNO OFFICE

Mission Statement:

The ARNG/USAR LNCO mission will assist in the reception and processing of ARNG/USAR Soldiers into, through, and completion of IADT/ADT. LNCOs will assist the training unit in the management of ARNG/USAR IAW DA, NGB, TRADOC, and state policies. The LNCO ensures the training, time and type of training received to meet the needs of the Army and the RC Soldier.

The ARNG/USAR LNCO assists the Reception Battalion/training centers in the reception, orientation, processing, and initial training assignment of RC Soldiers. Services include resolving recruitment problems, reclassification/recycle actions, and the problems of the Soldier. The LNCO at RECBN/training centers will provide Commander, TRADOC information of early coordination and resolution of ARNG/USAR peculiar problems.

ARNG/USAR LNCO supports the training unit in reclassification, recycle, ELS counseling, and coordination with RC parent unit. LNCO will assist Commanders, including training companies, in resolving problems of the ARNG/USAR Soldier. The primary goal is assisting in keeping quality Soldiers in training to a successful conclusion.

U.S COAST GUARD LIAISON OFFICER/USCG NATIONAL STRIKE FORCE

In June 2001, the first Coast Guard Liaison Officer reported aboard the U.S. Army Chemical School at Fort Leonard Wood. The Liaison Officer, (rank of Lieutenant Commander or O-4) is a member of the Coast Guard's National Strike Force (NSF) and is assigned to the NSF Coordination Center in Elizabeth City, North Carolina.

In November 2003 the Coast Guard added a Chief Warrant Officer (CWO4) to act as liaison to the Army Military Police School, and augment the Advanced Law Enforcement Training Division in an instructor capacity.

Created in 1973, the NSF (comprised of three coastal Strike Teams) provides highly trained, experienced personnel as well as specialized equipment to federal agencies for response to oil and hazardous substance environmental incidents. In the wake of terrorist attacks and anthrax incidents of 2001, NSF personnel were key players in assisting the EPA and other lead agencies in remediation of the impacted areas.

In addition to the Chemical School's Chemical Biological Radiological (CBR) expertise and training, Coast Guard members have been benefiting from the law enforcement training at the Military Police School's Advanced Law Enforcement Training Division (ALETD). Due to increased student flow and activity, the Coast Guard seal was added to the existing four military branches at Fort Leonard Wood's main gate in January 2003.

ALLIED ARMY LIAISON OFFICE

The Allied Army Liaison Office consists of senior officers from Australia, Canada, France, Germany, and the United Kingdom.

They provide/foster links between their Armed Forces and the U.S. services represented at US Army MANSCEN. The office facilitates bilateral (and when applicable, multi-lateral) work and exchange of information on equipment, doctrine, training and organizations. Given the unique perspectives and experiences (linked to expertise in their respective countries), they are committed to help formulate and cooperate on the development of new concepts, with the aim of enhancing interoperability with US Services. As their countries point of contact for information and cultural issues, they are willing to lend assistance when and where possible. For more information call 563-4030.

MANEUVER SUPPORT BATTLE LAB (MSBL)

The Maneuver Support Battle Lab evaluates Army Future Force operational and organizational concepts and technologies through live, virtual, and constructive experimentation to improve doctrine, organizations, training, materiel, leader development, personnel, and facility (DOTMLPF) programs. for more information call 563-4082 or email: atsedbl@wood.army.mil.

QUALITY ASSURANCE OFFICE (QAO)

The Directorate of Quality Assurance serves as the "Eves and Ears" of the commandants to ensure the implementation of training, combat, and doctrine development products, programs, and processes are in compliance with regulatory guidance. The directorate assists Headquarters Training and Doctrine Command in the accreditation of leader development and initial military training by conducting selfassessments of training conducted by proponent schools. Support is provided to decision makers at all levels through the collection, analysis and distribution of "customer" feedback concerning the quality of training and doctrinal products. External Surveys are fielded to collect data on the graduates' performance 6-12 months after graduation. QAO seeks feedback from graduates and their supervisors. Surveys are web based and participants are contacted via their AKO addresses. Feedback can also be provided by sending an e-mail to the following addresses:

Chemical: atztqaocm@wood.army.mil
Military Police: atztqaomp@wood.army.mil

GARRISON COMMAND

GARRISON COMMAND

Garrison Command has more than 3,000 Soldiers, government civilians and contract personnel in its diverse work force. These dedicated people support the training mission of the installation, mobilize and deploy active and reserve component units and personnel, and operate and maintain the installation facilities and programs that ensure an excellent quality of life for assigned service personnel, civilians and their families. The Garrison Command ensures all service members and their families have the facilities and services they need to be innovative and productive in their assignment and to fully enjoy their new home in the Heart of the Ozarks. We also strive to be active civic partners in the region, helping to improve quality of life and opportunities for all citizens. For assistance, call 563-4004. Garrison Command has the following subordinate commands, directorates and offices.

43RD AG BN

The 43rd. Adjutant General Battalion (Reception), a values based organization that receives approximately 25,000 volunteers annually for Initial Entry Training (IET). The battalion prepares IET Soldiers for training; prepares Prior Service Soldiers for worldwide assignments; assesses and improves physical fitness of IET Soldiers to prepare them for success in a training environment; integrates Reserve Component units and Individual Ready Reserves (IRR) and prepares them for mobilization; and provides administrative, logistical and UCMJ support to MANSCEN NCO Academy. The 43rd. Adjutant General Battalion consists of four companies and the 399th Army Band.

The Fitness Training Company's mission is to conduct three programs that benefit Soldiers and training units: The Physical Conditioning Unit (PCU) mentally and physically prepares "challenged" Soldiers to fully meet the physical demands of BCT/OSUT; the Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Program (PTRP) rehabilitates Soldiers injured in training until able to return to training; and the Army Physical Fitness Test-Completion (APFT-C) Program completes training Soldiers who fail their end-of-cycle APFT, until able to meet the minimum required APFT standards. Although not generic to reception battalions, centralization of these programs under the reception battalions enables economy of effort and prevents training units from having to conduct these missions out-of-hide.

The Headquarters and Headquarters Company's mission is to process prior service Soldiers for AIT and/or world-wide assignments, train assigned permanent party Soldiers and prior service Soldiers pending assignments, provide administrative and logistical support to the battalion's processing functions, and integrate/evaluate reserve component units for mobilization.

Company A and B, the two processing companies, mission is to receive, process and transfer new Soldiers to IET while creating a favorable first impression of the Army; conduct smooth shipment of IET Soldiers; integrate/Evaluate Reserve Component companies, and conduct initial soldierization process preparing for success at BT/OSUT.

The Military Personnel Office/Services (MILPO) mans and sustains the Fort Leonard Wood's military force, providing military personnel management, services, advice on military personnel and administrative policies, programs, procedures, military personnel service support to commanders, Soldiers, retirees, Army Reserve & National Guard Soldiers, as well as eligible family members within Fort Leonard Wood's area of responsibility. The staff also provides personnel service support

DIRECTORATE OF INFORMATION MANAGEMENT (DOIM)

The Directorate of Information Management (DOIM) provides overall management, planning and policy for the Information Mission Area (IMA) for Fort Leonard Wood. This mission includes the planning, acquisition, installation and maintenance of Fort Leonard Wood's automation, data communications, audiovisual devices and voice communication systems including radios. DOIM manages a Visual Information Center where they promote excellence in training communication, and provide a central visual information facility for trainers. DOIM is responsible for the security of all systems managed by them including all data coming into or leaving the installation. DOIM operates the Video Teleconferencing Center (VTC) and provides the connectivity for desktop VTCs. DOIM operates Fort Leonard Wood's records management, mail distribution and publications/ forms/textbook distribution. The directorate also runs channels 59, 60, and 61, Fort Leonard Wood's 24-hour information service broadcast. DOIM also provides oversight for all copiers. For additional information call 563-6113.

GARRISON SAFETY OFFICE (GSO)

The Garrison Safety Office (GSO) assists the Garrison Commander, subordinate commanders and civilian directors and supervisors in managing an effective safety program that identifies and eliminates or controls hazards. The staff develops safety programs and standards, evaluates unit and organization safety programs, inspects work areas, and integrates risk management into all activities. For more information, call 596-1380.

DIRECTORATE OF EMERGENCY SERVICES

The ES is a values-based customer service organization that provides exceptional assistance, protection and defense to the Fort Leonard Wood community, while ensuring they are always ready to deploy whenever and wherever they are needed. Units consist of HQ Garrison, 463rd MP CO, and 252nd MP Detachment.

The 252nd Military Police Detachment provides personnel and logistical assets necessary to train, manage, supervise, coordinate and execute the security, Force Protection and Law Enforcement mission on Fort Leonard Wood and throughout the AR 5-9 area of responsibility. On order, conducts Anti-Terrorism and Special Threat Operations and supports Contingency Operations both CONUS and OCONUS.

The 463rd Military Police Company is a values-based organization that provides Law Enforcement and Force Protection operations in support of the Fort Leonard Wood community. On order, the unit deploys and conducts Military Police Combat Support operations in support of FORSCOM contingency operations. The Headquarters Company provides the MANSCEN directorates with personnel manning. They provide company level administrative support to Headquarters Company (Garrison) Soldiers and ensure individual Soldier readiness and deployability by enforcing Army standards and maintaining values-based Soldiers. They also conduct effective mandatory and developmental training programs, Army Physical Fitness Testing, Common Task Testing, and deployability tracking.

DIRECTORATE OF PUBLIC WORKS (DPW)

Provides Engineering services for the installation and Reserve Commands to include master planning, design, and inspection of projects for construction, maintenance and repair of real property facilities. Operates and maintains utility systems. Provides fire protection, land management, and environmental services. Manages the installation housing program and assigns permanent party barracks. Call 596-0840 for more information.

DIRECTORATE OF LOGISTICS (DOL)

The Directorate of Logistics provides base operation support to Soldiers by providing food, clothing, supplies, transportation and equipment repair. To accomplish this mission, the Supply and Services Division operates post dining facilities, post laundry, clothing issue points, bulk petroleum, ammunition storage and supply warehouses. A permanent party issue point at the Central Issue Facility, Building 2338, is available without appointment. The issue line is open 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Patrons need to bring a copy of their unit assignment orders and their military ID card.

The Transportation Division operates the post motor pool, two locomotives over 21 miles of railroad tracks, provides travel services, passports, unit moves, movement and storage of household goods and shipment of overnight express and other freight items.

The Maintenance Division operates a consolidated maintenance complex that provides direct support and general support level maintenance for weapons, combat, construction, electronics, communication, tactical and non-tactical vehicles, furniture, canvas, chemical and support equipment. The division also operates a unit level consolidated equipment pool for Chemical and Military Police training, and provides maintenance assistance and instruction team services for all supported customers. In addition, the Maintenance Division manages the operational readiness float pool, warranty control program, equipment readiness reporting, and cannibalization point. The division is the proponent for the installation radiation safety program. For more information, call 596-0614.

DIRECTORATE OF PLANS, TRAINING AND MOBILIZATION (DPTM)

The Directorate of Plans, Training and Mobilization (DPTM) provides training guidance and support, coordinates training for initial entry Soldiers, noncommissioned officers, warrant officers and commissioned officers at Fort Leonard Wood. G3/ DPTM plans for and executes mobilization missions and domestic emergency plans and runs the central tasking office for the installation. G3/DPTM runs the Army Education Center that provides testing services, counseling, and continuing education opportunities for service members, civilians, and their families. The G3/DPTM provides Chemical Treaty oversight for the installation and oversees the Force Modernization Program. The G3/DPTM also provides support for Reserve Component training, ceremonies, airfield, and aviation activities and anti-terrorism/force protection matters. For more information, call 563-4038.

DIRECTOR OF RESOURCE MANAGEMENT, INSTALLATION MANAGEMENT AGENCY (DRM/IMA)

The Directorate of Resource Management, Installation Management Agency (DRM/IMA) obtains and manages the manpower and fiscal resources required to support Garrison Command, the U.S. Army Maneuver Support Center and Fort Leonard Woods goals in terms of base operations support for unit readiness and training, human needs, material modernization and future development. The staff provides program management for and assists and advises headquarters, staff and units concerning budgeting, manpower, commercial activities, civilian pay, productivity improvement and program and management analysis, providing coordination of Garrison concerns and problems with Defense Finance and Accounting Services (DFAS). For more information, call 563-4060.

OFFICE OF INTELLIGENCE AND SECURITY (OIS)

The Office of Intelligence and Security provides threat, intelligence and security support to tenant units and activities on Fort Leonard Wood, and to Chemical, Engineer and Military Police forces throughout the Army. Threat analysts specialize in threat tactics, doctrine and equipment development and their impacts on the branch-specific forces missions. Intelligence analysts provide support to Force Protection (FP) and Information Operations (IO) through the Intelligence Fusion Cell (IFC). The office also administers the installation information, information systems, communications, industrial, and personnel security programs, as well as administering the Foreign Disclosure Program and serving as the DA POC for all foreign visitors. OIS also provides Special Security Office (SSO) support for MANSCEN and Fort Leonard Wood. For more information, call 563-4020.

CHAPLAIN OFFICE

The Installation Chaplain's Office, located in Building 315, coordinates all religious services and programs for our Post. Religious Education is available for ages two through adult and is overseen by a Director of Religious Education. During business hours, the Family Life Center Chaplain can be reached at 596-0088. The Jewish Congregation sponsors additional social activities.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE (PAO)

The Public Affairs Office Director is the official spokesperson for the U.S. Army Maneuver Support Center and Fort Leonard Wood. The staff answers regional, state, national and international media inquiries and disseminates news and information to military and civilian audiences on- and off-post; arranges Army support for community events throughout Missouri; advises the command of all aspects of relations with off-post communities; and serves as a link between the post and regional, state and national business, civic, political and military organizations. The staff also publishes a weekly newspaper, the Guidon. The Guidon can be accessed at www.flw-guidon.com.The PAO also posts information on the main post marquee. For more information on the PAO call 563-4013 or 3-4145.

STAFF JUDGE ADVOCATE (SJA)

The Office of the Staff Judge Advocate is a multi-disciplinary legal office of Judge Advocates, civilian lawyers, and civilian and military paralegals and support personnel dedicated to supporting the mission of the United States Army Maneuver Support Center and Fort Leonard Wood while serving the legal needs of the Fort Leonard Wood military community. It does this by fairly administering the Military Justice System, and by effectively administering the federal prosecution, Army claims, legal assistance, installation contract law, labor law, environmental law, administrative law and civil litigation programs. The Trial Defense Service, a separate agency of Judge Advocates devoted to assisting and defending Soldiers facing non-judicial punishment, administrative separation proceedings, and courts-martial, is co-located with the OSJA. The OSJA is located in buildings 1705 and 1706. For more information about the legal assistance, claims, magistrate court and Trial Defense Service activities, please refer to the Services Section of this guide. More information about the OSJA can be found at www.wood.army.mil/sja.

INTERNAL REVIEW OFFICE

The Internal Review Office provides internal audit and other advisory services to the U.S. Army Maneuver Support Center and Fort Leonard Wood. We assist commanders by providing pertinent, timely, and reliable information and advice. Our auditors analyze command data to evaluate risk, assess management controls, improve quality, economy and efficiency, and foster stewardship. Our staff can analyze the data through consulting efforts or quick response reviews. Examples of review services include: assessments to ensure command resources are protected and maintained, evaluations to determine if efficient operating procedures are used, assessments to determine whether programs are achieving desired results, identifying factors inhibiting satisfactory performance, or identifying ways of making programs work better. We are also the Commanders point of contact for external audit and compliance services. This includes keeping the command informed of all external audits and processing draft and final audit reports. Our staff also performs reviews to ensure recommendations are implemented. For more information call 596-0637 or visit out web site at: www.wood.army. mil/InternalReview.

DIRECTORATE OF EQUAL OPPORTUNITY PROGRAMS (EOP)

The (EOP) consolidates the military Equal Opportunity and civilian Equal Employment Opportunity Programs into one organization. This is accomplished without consolidating their function, to avoid duplication of effort, while ensuring the efficient use of resources. The EOP provides advice and assistance to commanders, directors and other management officials, as well as to civilians, Soldiers and family members, to ensure fair and equal treatment without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, mental or physical disability, disability and/or reprisal.

EOP directs the celebrating of ethnic observances; manages and administers the EO and EEO complaint programs; develops affirmative action and employment plans; and provides training to develop an environment free of sexual harassment and discrimination. For more information, call 596-0602 or 596-0601.

CIVILIAN PERSONNEL ADVISORY CENTER (CPAC)

The CPAC provides advice and assistance to managers concerning civilian personnel management issues such as position management and classification issues, recruitment and placement actions, management-employee relations matters and labor relations activities. Hours of operation are Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The advisory staff can be reached at 596-0927. So that we can best serve our customers, appointments are encouraged. Our home page provides information on a variety of subjects and can be accessed at www.wwo.upw.mil/CPO/webpage.htm.

TRAINING SUPPORT BATTALION (TSB)

The Training Support Battalion provides direct support for training to four training brigades of over 8000 personnel, interservice training review organization of 1200 personnel, the Engineer, Chemical, MP and Transportation schools and Army Reserve and National Guard units conducting training at Fort Leonard Wood. Training includes instruction on basic combat skills i.e. land navigation, communications, first aid, Nuclear, Biological and Chemical training and oversight of basic and advanced rifle marksmanship to training units. The TSB is also responsible for the safe operation, maintenance and environmental stewardship of 38 ranges and 54,000 acres of training area. Since the inception of the Global War on Terrorism, the TSB has provided command and control for all mobilizing/ demobilizing units and individuals through Fort Leonard Wood.

3RD TRAINING BRIGADE

The 3rd Training Brigade, consisting of a Brigade Headquarters and three Basic Combat Training Battalions, conducts gender integrated Basic Combat Training to produce values based, physically fit, disciplined Soldiers, who are trained to standard in basic combat skills and are instilled with the Warrior Ethos. The brigade also has a reserve Training Base Expansion mission and works with members of the Army Reserve units from the 80th, 84th, 95th, 98th and 108th Training Divisions. Reserve Drill Sergeants spend their two weeks of Annual Training with the 3rd Training Brigade and together train Active, Reserve, and National Guard Soldiers.

The brigade trains well over 13,000 Soldiers annually. During their nine weeks of Basic Combat Training, Soldiers are molded into well-disciplined, highly motivated, mentally and physically fit professional Soldiers trained in basic combat skills. This training is conducted in three phases. The first phase is the "Patriot phase" in which Soldiers first learn about Army values, soldierization skills, military customs and courtesies, and drill and ceremony. Next is the "Gunfighter phase." In this phase, Soldiers learn to fire and qualify with their M16A2 rifle as well as familiarize with the M-249 Squad Automatic Weapon, the AT-4 anti-tank weapon, and the M203 grenade launcher. The final phase is "the Warrior phase," where Soldiers complete the End of Cycle Test and final Army Physical Fitness Test.

The Warrior phase concludes when Soldiers complete a Field Training Exercise where they get an opportunity to put into practice many of the tasks they trained on throughout the nine weeks. At the end of nine weeks, Soldiers graduate and begin their Advanced Individual Training at military installations throughout the United States.

Through an active and involved leadership, Soldiers conduct all of this training in a positive environment. Our Drill Sergeants reinforce the importance of the seven Army Core Values—loyalty, duty, respect, selfless service, honor, integrity and personal courage in each Soldier on a daily basis. Soldiers trained in the 3rd Training Brigade proudly serve in Active, Reserve, and National Guard units currently deployed around the United States and overseas.

To reach the 3rd Training Brigade head-quarters, call (573) 596-0750, or visit the 3rd Brigade's web site by logging on to www.wood.army.mil and following the links to 3rd Brigade.

INTERSERVICE TRAINING DETACHMENT

AIR FORCE DETACHMENT

(USAF, Detachment 7, 366th Training Squadron)

Detachment 7, comprised of 115 faculty and staff members, provides training in the United States Air Force specialties of Civil Engineering, Vehicle Operations and Security Forces. With an average daily student load of 300, the detachment instructs 20 courses, lasting from five to 71 academic days. The detachment also oversees an operating location (OLA) in Bluemont, Virginia, which provides training in support of the White House Military Office.

Detachment 7 is composed of six elements:

- 1. The Training Development section oversees all course development, Career Development Course writing and resource management.
- 2. The Pavements and Equipment School provides two apprentice courses: a 4-week prerequisite course, Interservice Training Review Organization (ITRO), which encompasses loaders/graders/ dozers and a 10-week Air Force Specifics course that includes AF unique knowledge, contingency operations, dump trucks, skid-steer loaders, water distributors, sweepers, excavators and backhoes as well as design and maintenance of both rigid and flexible pavements. These two courses run concurrent and are seamless; as they graduate the first course they enter the next one the following day. The element also provides a Mobile Training Team (MTT) instructing Civil Engineer Pavement Maintenance Inspection and Repair (CEPMIR).
- 3. The Readiness School instructs Air Force and international students (NATO only) in a 10-week apprentice course in Nuclear, Biological and Chemical (NBC) defense and Full Spectrum Threat Response Operations. The school also provides a 10-day Craftsman course, a 5-day Advanced Readiness course, a 5-day NBC Cell Operations course, both in-resident and MTT, and a 5-day Full Spectrum Threat Response Operations MTT.

- 4. The Vehicle Operations training includes a 6-week apprentice course in the operation of buses, wreckers, forklifts, cargo trucks and tractor-trailers. The course also includes instruction in vehicle dispatch, accident reporting and protocol. An advanced course is also taught via the worldwide web.
- The Security Forces members instruct in the United States Army Military Police School.
- 6. The Engineering section provides a 14-week apprentice course in manual and automated drafting, surveying, and Air Force Engineering contingency responsibilities. The element provides 2-week resident advanced courses in construction surveying, engineering design, and materials testing. A 13-day MTT Construction Management Course is also provided. To contact the USAF, Detachment 7, 366th Training Squadron, call 573-596-0811.

MARINE CORPS DETACHMENT

Like Fort Leonard Wood, the detachment has evolved considerably over the past thirty years beginning with an exclusive focus on engineer training in 1974 and rapidly expanding since 1995 to include all Marine Corps training for Engineer Equipment Operators (1995), Motor Transport Operators (1996), Military Policemen (1999), and NBC Defense Specialist (1999). MarCorDet now operates as one of the largest military occupational specialty schools in the Marine Corps, with one of every six new Marines joining the Corps passing through this command. With a permanent core of 300 Marines and an annual student load of nearly 7000, MarCorDet FLW serves proudly as the Corps' largest standing detachment.

The detachment has also grown in its involvement with the local communities, supporting an array of organizations and participating in countless projects to include: Special Olympics-Missouri, the ASYMCA, Habitat for Humanity, Adopt-a-School, local chapters of the Marine Corps League, funeral detail support throughout the region, and participation in various local parades and other community events throughout the year.

The impact of MarCorDet FLW can be seen throughout the Corps in that Marines who have trained here now serve at every Marine Corps Base and Station world-wide and are making substantial contributions in all current Marine Corps operations "in every clime and place."

NAVY DETACHMENT

(Center for Seabees and Facilities Engineering Detachment)

The Center for Seabees and Facilities Engineering (CSFE) Detachment at Fort Leonard Wood provides a wide range of training to Sailors and Seabees in support of both afloat and ashore Navy missions. Equipment Operator and Engineering Aide Apprentice training are conducted in an ITRO (joint services) format. This training prepares Seabees to provide support to Naval Forces in the form of contingency construction, disaster recovery and humanitarian assistance. Advance training is also offered by CSFE DET in the areas of Military Police and Chemical, Biological and Radiological Defense (CBR-D) courses. Hosted by the U.S. Army Military Police School, senior naval personnel attend both the Military Police Investigations and Protective Services courses. Co-located with the Army Chemical School, CSFE DET also offers two courses aimed at protecting Naval vessels and installations from CBR attack. CSFE DET is an active citizen of the Ozarks, participating heavily in community service projects throughout the area.

This detachment has been awarded the Chief of Naval Operations Achievement in Safety Award, the Chief of Naval Education and Training Award for Excellence (two awards), the Chief of Naval Education and Training Retention Excellence Award, the Department of the Army Award for Excellence in Safety, the Federal Executive Board, St. Louis Team Community Service Award, and inducted as full member to the Missouri Stream Team Number One.

CHEMICAL SCHOOL

UNITED STATES ARMY CHEMICAL SCHOOL OVERVIEW (USACMLS)

The United States Army Chemical School located at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri is the Department of Defense (DoD) center of strength for chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear (CBRN) defense. Additionally, the USACMLS oversees the training of Transportation Soldiers in heavy equipment operations and fuel re-supply at Fort Leonard Wood. Since June 28, 1918 when the War Department established the Chemical Warfare Service (CWS), the Chemical School has led the Nation in Force Protection and CBRN defense.

Today, the Chemical School supports multiple international programs for CBRN security assistance.

The school's primary mission is training of Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Airmen and DoD civilians in the skills required to protect and defend our nation from the threat of CBRN weapons. As the Army's proponent for CBRN defense, the school provides future concepts, combat developments, doctrine and training materials for all facets of CBRN force protection and homeland security. Advanced technology is continuously incorporated into CBRN defense concepts to ensure our forces have the best capability to defend against CBRN threats of today and tomorrow.

TRAINING

1. Soldier Training.

Chemical One Station Unit Training (OSUT). Chemical OSUT is a 19-week course that combines basic training and advanced individual training (AIT) and serves the purpose of transforming civilians into Chemical Soldiers. New recruits learn the basics of soldiering such as rifle marksmanship and drill and ceremony during the 8-week basic training portion of Chemical OSUT. At week nine, Soldiers enter the AIT phase of Chemical OSUT to learn the technical skills required of all Chemical Soldiers.

Transportation Advanced Individual Training (AIT). The Chemical School produces Soldiers not only for the Chemical Corps, but also for the Transportation Corps. Basic training graduates from across the army, who are designated to become Transportation Soldiers, are sent to Fort Leonard Wood to attend Transportation AIT. The purpose of this training is produce motor transport operators capable of driving 5-ton tactical vehicles, petroleum supply vehicles, and over-the-road semi-tractor trailers.

2. Leader Training.

Chemical officers and non-commissioned officers (NCOs) attend basic, advanced, and specialty NBC training at Fort Leonard Wood. Instruction focuses on warfare tactics, leadership, combined arms and joint operations, battlefield use of obscurant-sand flame weapons, and operations in a CBRN contaminated environment. International officers from over 80 countries participate in the leader training programs here at the Chemical School.

3. Specialty Training

CBRN Response and Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) Courses. Several courses provide training to the joint military community, DoD civilians, federal agencies and other emergency and first responders charged with installation CBRN defense responsibilities. The Installation Emergency Response Training Course and the CBRN Staff Planners courses provide CBRN technical skills to installation first responders, incident commanders, staff planners, operations center personnel, and other installation response assets. The Civil Support Skills Course provides the individual training and certification to be a member of a National Guard Civil Support Team — Weapons Of Mass Destruction (CST-WMD) or other CBRN response team. Additionally, the Joint Senior Leaders Course (JSLC) (CBRN) provides a solid foundation on which DoD senior leaders and flag officers can establish CBRN readiness programs. The JSLC is focused on the operational and strategic level of military and homeland CBRN defense and response operations. Instruction includes special topics presented by experts in the chemical, biological and nuclear defense community; and toxic chemical agent training at the Chemical Defense Training Facility. Soon the Installation Support Team (IST) Course will provide training for US Army IST's (CBRN response teams to support installation first responders) and training will be conducted for the U.S. Army Chemical Unit's Mass Casualty Decontamination and Full Spectrum CBRN Reconnaissance for domestic and warfight support missions.

Toxic Agent Training. The Chemical Defense Training Facility (CDTF) uses toxic chemical agent to train military, DoD civilian and foreign NBC specialists on operations in a toxic chemical environment. This training demonstrates the reliability of US chemical protective and decontamination equipment which builds confidence and helps NBC warfare specialists overcome fear of operating in chemically contaminated environments.

NBC Reconnaissance. This 5-week multi-service training course teaches Soldiers how to operate the M93A1 FOX Nuclear and Chemical Reconnaissance Vehicle, first used to detect and identify chemical contamination during Operation Desert Shield/Storm.

Biological Integrated Defense System (BIDS) Operators Course. This course trains DoD military and civilian personnel on the operation and employment of the M31A1 Biological Integrated Detection System (BIDS). This 4-week course trains Chemical Soldiers in biological identification and detection principles and procedures on the modern battlefield.

Radiological Safety. The Radiological Laboratory provides courses on radiological safety, Radiological Equipment Calibration, and tactical radiation defense.

4. Reserve Component Training.

The Chemical School provides initial entry training for all Chemical Soldiers in the United States Army Reserve and National Guard. Reserve Component Chemical Soldiers train at numerous sites throughout the United States and Puerto Rico as part of unit individual training on drill weekends. Consolidated training is held during two-week Annual Training sessions seven times a year at Fort Leonard Wood, MO.

FACILITIES

The USAMCLS training facilities are the finest of their kind in the world. Soldiers from all services, including allies from over 80 countries, train at these state-of-the-art facilities, including the Chemical Defense Training Facility (CDTF), Chemical Applied Training Facility (CATF), the Edwin R. Bradley Radiological Lab, and the FOX and BIDS simulation centers. The CDTF is an indoor toxic agent training facility and continues the tradition begun by the CDTF at Fort McClellan, Alabama. Since 1987, the two facilities have trained over 70,000 students from all services and 26 foreign countries while maintaining a perfect safety record.

The CATF centralizes the classroom and hands-on instruction for decontamination operations. This facility boasts a variety of decontamination equipment and vehicles used by all Armed Services to practice decontamination techniques. Here, CBRN specialists learn the basics of how to properly maintain and decontaminate equipment and personnel in a contaminated environment.

The Edwin R. Bradley Radiological Laboratory is a unique training facility and holds a license from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. This facility is the only one in the Army that qualifies individuals in Installation Radiological Protection, Control and Safety, a program that includes maintenance, storage, and calibration of radiac instruments and radioactive material in installation shops and warehouses.

The NBC Reconnaissance Training Facility, or Fox's Den, is used to conduct crew drills for FOX operators. The facility now showcases the latest computer simulation and modeling, a capability to interact with similar facilities located at the Armor and Infantry Schools, and the ability to conduct complete missions in a computer-generated National Training Center scenario.

Major advances have been made in the last five years in our Nation's ability to detect and identify biological agents and attacks. The M31A1 BIDS gives an unparalleled ability to defend from the effects of biological warfare. Training on these systems begins in the BIDS Bunker. Within the bunker are the latest state-of-the-art computer simulators, workstations, and communications systems all designed to ensure that our Soldiers receive the best possible training.

The Chemical Corps Museum is part of the MANSCEN tri-museum complex. The museum is a state of the art exposé of Chemical Corps history ranging from the First Gas Regiment in World War I to anticipated threats of years to come.

ENGINEER SCHOOL

U.S. ARMY ENGINEER SCHOOL (USAES)

The United States Army Engineer School (USAES) provides a progressive program of resident and non-resident training in its quest to provide qualified combat engineer leaders in an ever-expanding technological society.

The Engineer School mission includes teaching engineer officers tactics and techniques, principles of military engineering and integrating environmental considerations into military operations. School personnel also develop engineer equipment, and prepare and revise engineer doctrine and training publications. While the installation has been a training site for enlisted engineers since it's founding in 1941, it was not until 1990 that Army engineer officers made it their place of training. In 1995, Navy, Marine and Air Force personnel joined the Army to conduct joint engineer training at Fort Leonard Wood.

As a part of the Maneuver Support Center Complex, Hoge Hall is the headquarters for the United States Army Engineer School and Fort Leonard Wood. It is named in honor of Gen. William Hoge, who commanded the Army's Engineer School at Fort Belvoir, Va., from 1946 to 1948. Lincoln Hall is the academic building, named for Gen. George Lincoln. A Rhodes scholar, Lincoln was promoted to brigadier general at age 38, making him America's youngest World War II general staff officer. The United States Engineer School Assistant Commandant and the Engineer Branch Staff are located in Lincoln Hall Suite 3617 at telephone 563-8060.

The Engineer School consists of the following:

The Directorate of Training develops training programs and materials; schedules officer and enlisted courses of instruction for resident training. The directorate also manages resident and nonresident training in military operations and engineering for professional development courses; assists National Guard, Reserve and ROTC units, Call 563-4111 for more information. The TRADOC System Manager, Engineer Combat Systems directs the combat development of systems assigned by the TRADOC commander and the commander of the U.S. Army Engineer Center. The staff serves as the principal interface with materiel developers, ensuring the integration of doctrine, operational concepts and requirements, and logistics. They manage and integrate all user aspects of those engineer combat systems designed to enhance the maneuver force domination of the battlefield. For more information, call 563-4085.

Directorate of Environmental Integration. As a result of the December 1, 2000 approved Army Environmental Campaign Plan and Operational Directive signed by the Under Secretary of the

2005 WINTER POST GUIDE AND TELEPHONE DIRECTORY ENGINEER SCHOOL

Army and the Army's Vice Chief of Staff, the USAES was designated the Army's (and branch) proponent for the integration of environmental considerations across DOTMLPF and within military operations. The DEI represents the USAES in the day-to-day execution of this mission. In this role, DEI will: develop, integrate, evaluate, standardize, and synchronize environmental considerations into and across the domains of doctrine, organizational design, training (military and civilian), materiel requirements development, leader development (military and civilian), personnel (military/civilian support) and facilities (DOTMLPF); to increase awareness and knowledge of Soldiers and civilians to positively affect environmental efficiencies and effectiveness, in the conduct of military training and operations, in order to: ensure sustainable Army training areas and ranges, environmentally considerate leaders and units when operationally deployed, and a program synchronized with the Army's other four areas of environmental concentration: Research, Development and Acquisition; Installation Management; Operations; and Public Outreach. Additionally, USAES (DEI) is charged with the collection and dissemination of environmental lessons learned. Call 563-4119 for more information.

TPIO-TD as TRADOC representative to the Army develops, coordinates and synchronizes all Army digital terrain data requirements for current and future forces and coordinates with the JIM community. Ensures terrain visualization and terrain data capabilities are implemented in current military operations, combat developments, exercises, experiments, training, and modeling and simulation. Reviews requirements documents for Army systems (subsystems) that require digital terrain data and ensures interoperability and commonality aspects of terrain data and products. Partners with AMSO, NSC, BCBL, TPIO-Virtual, and others to guarantee that geospatial aspects in M&S are compatible with C4ISR.

TVC, as the USAES geospatial proponent, supports current military operations, develops Geospatial solutions for Doctrine, Organization Design, Training Development, Materiel Requirements Determination, Leadership Development, Personnel, and Facilities (DOTMLPF), exercises and experiments involving the JIM geospatial engineering community.

The Deputy Assistant Commandant Army National Guard and Army Reserve exercises oversight on behalf of the commandant of the total force integration process. For more information, call 563-4030.

ENGINEER MUSEUM

The U.S. Army Engineer Museum, in Building 1607, houses displays that tell the history of the U.S. Army Engineer from 1775 to the present. Exhibit highlights include airborne, amphibious, combat and topographic Engineering as well as bridging, demolitions, land mine warfare and weapons. Adjacent to the Engineer Museum are 13 restored World War II structures, featuring barracks, mess halls, orderly rooms, day rooms and a POW exhibit. Call (573) 596-0780 for more information or visit www.wood.army.mil/museum.

1ST ENGINEER BRIGADE

1st Engineer Brigade provides command and operational control for four TRADOC battalions (35th Engr. Bn, 554th Engr. Bn, 169th Engr. Bn, and 577th Engr. Bn) and one FORSCOM battalion (5th Engr. Bn) at Fort Leonard Wood. You can reach the 1st Engineer Brigade headquarters at 596-0224 or visit the brigade web site at http://www.wood.army.mil/ 1STBDE. The missions of the subordinate battalions are unique and diversified and include responsibility for training engineer officers in their Basic Course and Captains Career Course, and Warrant Officers in their Basic and Advanced Course. Additionally the brigade operates the SAP-PER Leader Course, the Army's premier engineer small unit leadership course. The brigade also trains approximately 9,000 Engineer and Ordnance Soldiers (both OSUT and AIT) in 17 different MOSs annually. 1st Engineer Brigade is the largest engineer brigade in the U.S. Army. The addition of joint training to the post in 1995 brought Sailors, Marines and Airmen to the 1st Engineer Brigade to learn nonservice unique technical engineering skills. Since then the brigade has trained all of the Department of Defense's heavy equipment operators. Lastly, the brigade maintains operational control of the 67th Mine Dog Detachment, the Army's Engineer Mine Dog detachment.

ENGINEER SCHOOL

The 5th Engineer Battalion is the only active component Corps Mechanized Combat Engineer Battalion located in the continental United States. Its mission is to deploy early to a theater of operation, perform Combat Engineer missions to support a ground maneuver force and to sustain and protect the battalion in order to ensure mission success. It is the largest FORSCOM unit located on Fort Leonard Wood and cherishes its proud history of service to the nation, and is affectionately called the "Fightin' Fifth." The Fightin' Fifth traces its lineage back to 1861, when it was formed as the "Battalion of Engineer Troops" in support of the Army of the Potomac and has earned the following campaign participation credits: Civil War (Peninsula, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Wilderness, Spotsylvannia, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Appamattox and Virginia, 1863), the War with Spain (Santiago), the Phillippine Insurrection (Streamer without inscription), the Mexican Expedition (Mexico, 1916-1917), World War I (Lorraine, 1918), World War II (Normandy, Northern France, Ardennes alsace, Rhineland and Central Europe), Southwest Asia (Defense of Saudi Arabia and Liberation and Defense of Kuwait). Unit decorations include the Meritorious Unit Commendation (Army), Streamer embroidered SOUTHWEST ASIA and additionally, Alpha Company is entitled to the Valorous Unit Award, Streamer embroidered IRAQ. In 1992, after returning from Desert Storm, the battalion transitioned from a wheeled to a mechanized unit and was redesignated the 5th Engineer Battalion (Combat Mechanized). Today, the battalion has one attached unit, the 562nd Engineer Detachment (Firefighter), both units support Fort Leonard Wood, MAN-SCEN and the nation by developing leaders in an MTO&E environment, providing vital mission support, testing and evaluation developmental combat engineer equipment, feeding over 500 MANSCEN students daily at the Normandy Training Area DFAC, conducting Combat Lifesaver Courses and providing firefighting support while remaining focused on combat readiness. An aggressive training schedule at Fort Leonard Wood, rotations to the National Training Center, Fort Irwin, California, and other off-post deployments assist the unit in maintaining a warrior spirit and fighting edge. Since mechanization of the battalion in 1992, the 5th habitually trains with the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment at Fort Carson, Colorado, and participates in training exercises with the 937th Engineer Group at Fort Riley, Kansas. Unit members are proud of the past and dedicated to preparing for the future. The unit motto is; Courage, Skill, Strength, and the battalion greeting is Fightin' Fifth, followed by the response, Victory. Battalion headquarters can be reached at 596-0140, or visit our web site at http://nikto/5th/.

U.S. ARMY MILITARY POLICE SCHOOL

The United States Army Military Police School (USAMPS) is a unique multi-service training facility that provides instruction to more than 16,000 Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine, civilian and foreign students annually.

As the Law Enforcement Center of Excellence, the school trains military police leaders and Soldiers to serve across the full spectrum of military operations from stability and support operations to major theater conflicts. The Military Police School is responsible for all of the DOTMLPF domains (doctrine, organizations, training, materiel, leadership and education, personnel, and facilities) in regards to the Military Police Corps for both present and future operations.

USAMPS is task-organized into the 14th Military Police Brigade, Directorate of Training and Leadership Developments, Directorate of Futures and Developments, and Directorate of Plans and Operations.

14TH MILITARY POLICE BRIGADE

The 14th Military Police Brigade is tasked organized into three battalions, one permanent party battalion and two One Station Unit Training (OSUT) battalions. The brigade's mission is to train and provide disciplined, motivated, physically fit, technically and tactically proficient MP Soldiers inculcated with the Army values, for assignment to units worldwide, capable of immediately contributing to their next unit's mission, and able to survive in any environment they might face.

The 701st Military Police Battalion is responsible for oversight and management of the 53 courses of instruction within USAMPS, while the 787th and 795th Military Police Battalions provide Basic Combat Training and MP Advanced Individual Training (AIT), to newly recruited Soldiers.

FACILITIES

All levels of training at USAMPS are enhanced by some of the most modern training facilities within the US Army. A majority of this premier law enforcement training is conducted at Stem Village, a mock city located on Fort Leonard Wood named in honor BG David Stem, the first Commandant of the Military Police Corps Regiment. The village covers over 77, 670 square feet and is constructed of duel purpose buildings. For example, a movie theater that actually contains weapons training classrooms, including a state of the art Engagement Skills Trainer (EST) simulator for the MK-19 grenade launcher, M9 pistol, and M16A2 rifle. The village is divided into two main areas. The Basic

MILITARY POLICE SCHOOL

Military Police Training Division (BMPTD) trains newly graduated Soldiers and Marines on basic MP skills utilizing the mock MP Station, Bar, Strip Mall, and Gymnasium. At the same time, the Advanced Law Enforcement Training Division (ALETD) is training 18 different courses from special police operations to anti-terrorism and counter-drug. This portion of the village contains a tactical assault course for Special Reaction Team (SRT) training, complete with Credit Union, Shopette, Health Clinic, government quarters and several other buildings the team might encounter on a military base. Each facility contains surveillance systems, inside and out, to record the training for immediate feedback to the students on what went right and what mistakes need to be corrected. The village also contains mock quarters for the student investigators to train on crime scene processing and child abuse prevention, as well as a mock Confinement Facility for training Military Police Corrections Specialist.

Thurman Hall is located in the MAN-SCEN complex. Named after General Maxwell R Thurman, this facility hosts the MP School's Command Group Headquarters and contains classrooms and high-tech labs for training the MP Corps' Officers, Investigators, Physical Security Inspectors, and Criminal Investigation Department (CID) agents. The third floor contains the latest battlefield simulation system were student leaders fight their plans, while practicing their battle tracking and communication skills.

By providing the best possible training to thousands of Soldiers, Airmen, Sailors, Marines, and civilians, the Military Police Corps Regiment helps provide the best protectors in the world who serve with the greatest vigilance while on guard for our Nation.

MILITARY POLICE CORPS REGIMENTAL MUSEUM

The Military Police Corps Regimental Museum originated at Fort Gordon, Georgia in 1957. The Museum moved to Fort McClellan, Alabama in 1975, and, as part of the 1995 Base Realignment and Closure initiative moved to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri in 1999 and began reconstruction. Reconstruction efforts are now approximately 80% complete and feature "state of the art" diorama of the heritage of the Corps from as early as the Revolutionary War, and exhibits of Military Police artifacts from every major military campaign. Additional features expected to be completed as early as May 2003 will include audio/visual effects that will bring the exhibits to life and provide a virtual guided tour through the gallery for visitors to the museum.

The museum provides visitors an opportunity to view the entire history of the Military Police Corps, and seeks to impart to young Soldiers entering the Corps a sense of history and self in the midst of changing roles. As a public institution, the museum serves as an educational entity to enhance public awareness of the contributions made by the Military Police Corps and the U.S.Army.

The Regimental Memorial Grove is where our Regiment honors those Military Police Soldiers who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their country and freedom. The grove is also where Military Police Soldier graduates conduct their ceremonial Rites of Passage, becoming Military Police Soldiers. For further information about the U.S.Army Military Police School, Military Police Corps Regimental Museum, or Regimental Memorial Grove contact the Directorate of Operations at 563-8027, or visit the Military Police School link through the Fort Leonard Wood web site at www.wood.army.mil.

SUPPORT CENTER NONCOMMISSIONED OFFICER ACADEMY AND DRILL SERGEANT SCHOOL

The Maneuver Support Center Noncommissioned Officer Academy/Drill Sergeant School (MANSCEN NCOA/DSS) is the U.S. Army's largest NCO Academy and Drill Sergeant School. University and began his military service as a contract surgeon during the Apache Indian Wars in the 1880s, winning the Congressional Medal of Honor for valor.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, Wood commanded the 1st U.S. Volunteer Cavalry, better known as the Rough Riders. His second in command, Theodore Roosevelt, took over the regiment when Wood was promoted. Theodore Roosevelt earned fame for leading the Rough Riders in the charge on San Juan Hill.

Leonard Wood served as the Army's Chief of Staff from 1910 to 1914. His last position of service was as Governor General of the Philippine Islands, which Spain had ceded to the U. S. after the

THE BEGINNING

The history of Fort Leonard Wood dates back to the dark days just before World War II. By 1940, war had engulfed Europe and much of Asia. The United States was slowly and painfully struggling to put its military house in order. By then, many Americans believed that it was only a matter of time before the country would be drawn into what was rapidly becoming a global conflict.

The nation's leaders worked to increase the size of the armed forces, procure modern equipment, and merge the two into an effective fighting force. One of the major challenges was finding suitable training areas for the expanding Army. In 1940, the War Department decided to establish a major training facility in the Seventh Corps area. This command comprised most of the states of the central plains. Originally located near Leon, Iowa, the site for the new training center was moved to south-central Missouri.

On December 3, 1940, military and state officials broke ground for what was known as the Seventh Corps Area Training Center. In early January 1941, the War Department designated the installation as Fort Leonard Wood.

GENERAL LEONARD WOOD

The post is named for Major General Leonard Wood, a distinguished American Soldier whose service to his country spanned 40 years. A warrior and a surgeon, Leonard Wood graduated from Harvard Spanish-American War. General Wood held this position until his death in 1927.

BUILDING THE FORT

Building a major training center in the rugged terrain of the Ozarks presented a formidable challenge. The nearest rail service was several miles away. There was no housing for the thousands of workers who would build the post. Fort Leonard Wood had to be built quickly, since the first troops were scheduled to arrive in only a matter of weeks after the initial groundbreaking. First to train at Fort Leonard Wood, were elements of the 6th Infantry Division.

Inclement weather complicated construction; bulldozers often were needed to drag lumber trucks through the mud.

But through sheer determination and hard work, construction crews completed their task by June of 1941. They had built nearly 1,600 buildings, comprising more than five million square feet of floor space, at a cost of $37 million and had done the job in six months.

ORIGINAL TRAINING MISSION

Fort Leonard Wood was to be the home of the 6th Infantry Division. In time, four other infantry divisions the 8th, the 70th, the 75th and the 97th trained at the installation. In addition, a number of non-divisional units, ranging from field artillery battalions to quartermaster companies, also trained on the post. During World War II, more than 300,000 Soldiers passed through Fort Leonard Wood on their way to service in every theater of operation.

While the post was initially designated as an infantry division training area, Fort Leonard Wood quickly took on an Engineer training mission. In March 1941, the first elements of an Engineer Replacement Training Center arrived in South-Central Missouri. The growing size of the Engineer force and limited training facilities at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, prompted the Chief of Engineers to look for additional training locations. Initially, Engineer training focused on the training of individual replacements for established units. Soldiers went through a program that included both basic and Engineer Soldier skills. The training schedule varied from eight to 14 weeks, depending on the need for Engineer replacements. In time, Engineer units were formed on the post and completed their training prior to movement overseas.

AFTER WORLD WAR II

With the end of the war in 1945, training declined at Fort Leonard Wood, and ceased completely in the spring of 1946. The War Department placed the post on the inactive list. Between 1946 and 1950, a small caretaker unit maintained some of the facilities, which were used for summer training by National Guard units. Much of the reservation was leased to an Oklahoma rancher who used the area for grazing cattle.

KOREAN WAR

In June 1950, North Korea invaded South Korea. The United States, as a major part of the United Nations mission, went into action to halt and turn back the North Korean aggression. The Department of the Army once again needed training areas. On August 1, 1950, the Army announced that Fort Leonard Wood was to be reopened to provide basic and engineer training for Soldiers destined for Korea.

The Army reactivated the 6th Armored Division and gave the division the training mission as the cadre unit. The commander of 6th Armored Division was MG. Samuel Sturgis, a distinguished Engineer who had served under Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Pacific during World War II. Gen. Sturgis would ultimately become the Chief of Engineers.

THE COLD WAR

When hostilities ended in Korea, there was some concern over the fate of the post. However, the military demands of the Cold War and aggressive efforts by local community leaders led to a decision by the Army to make Fort Leonard Wood a permanent installation.

In 1956, the installation was designated the U.S. Army Training Center Engineer. Because of its new status as a permanent post, Fort Leonard Wood received substantial funds to replace the wooden construction of World War II era buildings with permanent brick structures.

Construction included major troop barracks complexes, hundreds of military family units, and support and recreational facilities. The construction of the 1950s and 1960s enabled the post to handle the significant increase in training workload brought on by the war in Vietnam.

VIETNAM

In 1967, the post trained more than 120,000 Soldiers. Not all of this training involved either basic or Engineer training. Skill training included such specialties as clerks, cooks, bakers, wiremen, mechanics and motor vehicle operators.

With the reduction of the Army, following the Vietnam War, the overall number of Soldiers training at the post declined. However, the composition of Soldiers arriving for Engineer training changed in the 1970s and early 1980s. By the mid-1970s, the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Marine Corps began training their construction equipment operators at Fort Leonard Wood. The post also began providing Engineer training to other nations. In 1982, the 4th Training Brigade was training Engineers from 15 foreign countries.

THE ARMY ENGINEER SCHOOL

In 1985, Fort Leonard Wood entered yet another phase in its history. That year, the Secretary of the Army announced the U.S. Army Engineer School would move from Fort Belvoir, Virginia, to Fort Leonard Wood. For years, the Engineer School had suffered a lack of space for training.

Actually, the Army had looked at moving the Engineer school in the mid-1970s, but was unable to get the plan approved for nearly ten years. The Engineer School completed its move in 1989 occupying a new $60 million state-of-the-art training and education facility. For the first time in nearly 50 years, all Engineer training including officers, warrant officers, noncommissioned officers and enlisted personnel would take place at the same location. The growth of the post brought even more construction, with new commissary, fitness and training facilities.

POST COLD WAR

The end of the Cold War did not result in a decline in activity at the post. The invasion of Kuwait by Iraq prompted a significant military response by the United States and its allies. Fort Leonard Wood units were deployed to Southwest Asia for operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm. In addition, the installation processed more than 4,000 Reserve component Soldiers mobilized in response to the Iraqi invasion. This included 16 Army Reserve and nine National Guard units. Fort Leonard Wood also provided personnel and technical expertise to contingency and humanitarian operations in Somalia, Haiti and Bosnia. Post Cold War training also included instruction in Engineer construction techniques for Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corp personnel stationed at Fort Leonard Wood.

The most recent development for Fort Leonard Wood has been its selection as the new home of the U.S. Army's Chemical and Military Police schools. Under the provisions of the Base Realignment and Closure Act, the Department of the Army, with the concurrence of the U.S. Congress, decided in 1995 to close Fort McClellan, Alabama.

The two Fort McClellan schools, Chemical and Military Police were directed to relocate to Fort Leonard Wood by the end of the 20th Century. This brought yet another significant building effort to the post, as new facilities were constructed to house the two schools and provide the specialized training unique to each branch. The move to Fort Leonard Wood was completed in 1999.

Now designated the Maneuver Support Center, Fort Leonard Wood enters the new century and the new millennium as a state-of-the-art, diversified training center in service to the United States of America.

DISCOVERING MISSOURI

Fort Leonard Wood is a gateway to the Missouri Ozark, a sportsman's paradise offering more than any camper, hiker, floattripper, four-wheel-drive enthusiast, canoeist, dirt biker or horseback rider could find the leisure time to do. For fishermen, the rivers and streams flowing through and near the post are crystal clear, providing an ideal home for small mouth and large mouth bass, goggle eye (rock bass), bluegill, catfish, stocked trout and more. Hunters will find the woods thick with deer, rabbit, squirrel, quail and wild turkey. Cave lovers will be happy to hear that Missouri is often called the Cave State. There are several caves on the Fort Leonard Wood installation, and new caves are discovered statewide each year. Some of the larger caves are commercially operated and provide guided tours, while many more are open for all levels of spelunking. If outdoor sports are not what you are looking for, museums, Civil War battlefields, historic homes and buildings, shopping and antiques, concerts, big-league sports, plays and ballets are all with in driving distance of Fort Leonard Wood.

THE MAKING OF MISSOURI

The territory that is now the state of Missouri was under several flags after Europeans crossed the Mississippi River. The French flirted with Missouri for nearly a century before deserting her. The Spanish courted Missouri ardently for about 30 years, but finally rejected her as a bride: Missouri was too expensive to maintain. The fledgling United States greeted Missouri with open arms in 1804, held her as a betrothed for a proper 17 years, then finally led her to the altar of full statehood in 1821. Missouri has been nicknamed the Mother of the West. Several overland routes originated here: the Santa Fe Trail, the Oregon Trail, the Pony Express, the Butterfield Overland Stage Line. During the Civil War, Missourians were evenly split between North and South. The state legislature passed a resolution that Missouri secede from the Union, but quick action by President Abraham Lincoln to declare martial law kept Missouri in the Union. Missouri is divided into five diverse vacation regions, each offering something different and unique.

THE FABULOUS FIVE REGIONS OF MISSOURI:

Fort Leonard Wood is located in the Central region. The other four regions are: Northwest, Northeast, Southwest and Southeast. The Central Region is bounded by St. James to the east, Brighton to the south, Stockton to the west, and Columbia to the north. Jefferson City, the state capital, is a highlight of this region, where visitors can explore the Governor's Residence, the Capitol, Jefferson Landing State Historic Site and several museums. Other communities include; Fulton, the home of the Winston Churchill Memorial: Boonville, which marks the spot of the first Civil War battle in Missouri; and Arrow Rock, a museum town that has preserved more than 40 historic sites. In Rolla, visitors can see a scaled-down version of Britain's famous Stonehenge on the University of Missouri campus. St. James is one of the state's largest wineproducing areas. Just to the west is Pulaski

DISCOVERING MISSOURI

County, home of Fort Leonard Wood with military museums open to the public and hundreds of miles of river ways to canoe and camp along. A little further to the north is Lake of the Ozarks, provides shopping, shows, and lake recreation.

The Southwest Region includes Springfield, the third largest city in the state; Joplin, a booming mining town of the 1800s; Wilson's Creek Battlefield, where the first general officer, Union commander Gen. Nathaniel Lyon, was killed during the Civil War; and Branson, the site of over 100 topname country music shows, amusement parks and Silver Dollar City, a theme park combining Ozark crafts and history with modern entertainment. Lamar is the birthplace of former U.S. President Harry Truman. Author Laura Ingalls Wilder penned the Little House on the Prairie series of books at Mansfield. Both Lamar and Mansfield have homes rich in memorabilia.

The Southeast Region, bounded by Leasburg to the north, Cape Girardeau to the east, Thayer on the south and Cabool to the west. This area, including the

2005 WINTER POST GUIDE AND TELEPHONE DIRECTORY DISCOVERING MISSOURI

National Scenic River way, is best seen by canoe or boat. It's a region rich in natural wonders, including more than 60 major springs, caves and the 132-foot Toma Sauk Falls. Farther east is the world's largest lead mining district near Potosi and Viburnum. The Southeast Region contains a little of everything from Cotton plantations to swamps to forests and hills. The region takes in Ste. Genevieve (Missouri's oldest city) to the north, Eminence on the west and the Mississippi River on the east. An infamous spot in this region is New Madrid, where one of the most violent earthquakes (stronger even than the trembler that shook San Francisco nearly a century later) struck in 1811-1812. A museum and ante-bellum home are two of New Madrids highlights. Ste. Genevieve, established by the French in 1735, still retains the color and flavor of yesteryear. Other highlights of this region include Cape Girardeau, with its historic homes, museums, Civil War fortifications, old mill and covered bridge; Poplar Bluff, with dioramas of animals; and Perryville, with St. Mary's of the Barrens Church, which dates back to 1827.

DISCOVERING MISSOURI

The Northwest Region, in the northwest corner of the state, is reminiscent of the Old West. Kansas City is well known for its shopping, professional sports, museums, old homes and other cultural attractions. This area also boasts Independence, site of the Harry S. Truman Library and Museum, the former Presidents home and office, and a Mormon Visitors Center. Weston, with more than 100 buildings pre-dating the Civil War, also is home to the largest tobacco auction west of the Mississippi. Near Buckner is the reconstructed Fort Osage, built by William Clark as the first outpost in the Louisiana Territory. Lexington is a major Civil War battle site. St. Joseph, is the starting point for the Pony Express in 1860. Located in St. Joseph are art, history and doll museums; the first row houses built west of the Mississippi River; and the frame house where the outlaw, Jesse James, was shot and killed. The Jamesport area is the largest Amish settlement in Missouri today and features antique shops, country stores and crafts. In the early 1800s, the Mormons settled the area west of Jamesport. Near Maryville, religious manuscripts from the ninth century can be found at the Conception Abbey.

The Northeast Region has been home to several well-known individuals, including Mark Twain (Samuel Clemens), born in Florida, Mo., and raised at Hannibal. Area attractions center on the life and works of the famous humorist. Walt Disney grew up in Marceline. Two of the Army's finest, Gen. John J. (Blackjack) Pershing (from Laclede) and Gen. Omar N. Bradley (from Clark) also called this region home. The first school of osteopathic medicine in the world was founded at Kirksville. The town of Bethel was founded as a German communal colony in the 1850s. Several other historical sites and museums are located in the region, including a railroad museum in Moberly.

More information on Missouri's regions and attractions is available through the Fort Leonard Wood Information, Ticket and Registration Office, and from the Pulaski County Tourism Bureau. Complimentary Day trip and driving tour; brochures are available at the Pulaski County Visitors Center located at I-44 exit 161, 137 St. Robert Blvd., D.

ST. ROBERT

Come grow with us!

St. Robert is known as the business hub of Pulaski County. The city is relatively young but it has achieved more than most cities since its birth, living up to its motto Grow With Us. Since being formed in 1951, St. Robert has expanded its borders and nearly tripled in size in the last five years. St. Robert just opened a new municipal center including city offices, police and fire facilities. The new St. Robert Interstate Plaza features hotels, restaurants and shops. Be sure to try our fine restaurants. They offer a broad choice of American and Ethnic cuisine. Residents of the county come to St. Robert to make use of its air-conditioned Community Center, which offers a stage, fully equipped kitchen, bathrooms and large seating capacity The city park, adjacent to the Communication Center, offers a softball field, picnic areas, pavilions and barbeque pits. The park is the site each year for a circus and the annual Pulaski County Regional Fair among other events. For outdoor enthusiasts, St. Robert is near beautiful fishing streams, canoe rentals and resorts and plenty of water fun. Lake of the Ozarks, state trout parks, and the Ozark Scenic River ways are just a short drive away.

WAYNESVILLE

Preserving the past, planning for the future.

Waynesville, the county seat of Pulaski County, is nestled among beautiful Ozark hills. Its historic downtown square is rich with the city's history, including the restored Old Stagecoach Stop, which dates back to 1860 and the Pulaski County Courthouse Museum that dates back to 1903. The Waynesville City Park, home to the annual Frog Festival and Paw Paw Daze Festival, also offers a 1 mile walking trail that runs along the Roubidoux River and joins with the Laughlin Park and Roubidoux Spring. The square Growth can be seen throughout Waynesville, from upscale new subdivisions to Townfield Plaza, the areas newest shopping district which is located along Hwy H. Fort Leonard Wood's secondary entrance and the National Veteran's cemetery, opening in the near future, is located at this intersection of H highway and I-44 at the new West Gate. The city recently finalized a joint-use airport agreement with Fort Leonard Wood, opening Forney Airfield to convenient air travel. There's fun for all ages in Waynesville whether you like to fish for that lunker, scuba dive in the internationally known Roubidoux Spring Cave, swim at the city pool or explore Civil War history. The city's parks offer picnic facilities, barbeque grills, new covered pavilions, a fishing area with handicapped accessible dock, and a baseball field. Once a year the city celebrates its heritage at Old Settlers Day, with crafts, food, music, a black powder shoot and more.

DIXON

A hometown place.

Take a scenic 13-mile drive from Interstate 44 and see our beautiful bluffs, caves and cross the Gasconade River on your way to our hometown place. Enjoy a meal at one of our quaint home-style restaurants. Browse around for antiques and collectibles. A visit to our local tree, pumpkin and berry farm is a treat for the whole family. Enjoy a scenic view from Portugese Point. For the sportsman, take a canoe or camping trip. Try out our beautiful 9-hole golf course or attend the Blue Grass Festival over Memorial and Labor Day weekends and Cow Days.

CROCKER

In the heart of the Ozarks.

Crocker rests amid forested hills and farmlands, the natural beauty that inspired the founding fathers to settle here. Picturesque and inviting, Crocker offers a peaceful rural setting and a carefully preserved heritage. Crocker is an unspoiled and historic community, alive with the spirit and pride of yesteryear, maintaining pioneer values of God, family, country and love of our neighbors. Travel but a short distance in any direction and find wilderness resorts, campgrounds, spring-fed rivers and lakes, state parks and historical sites. The citizens of Crocker and the surrounding rural community welcome you and invite you to visit and stay awhile. We know you will like what you see as we strive to progress together toward the bright future we have here in Crocker.

RICHLAND

A great place to call home.

Richland is a growing community of friendly people that offers a variety of activities to enjoy. We invite you to drop by for a visit, but don't be surprised if you end up staying longer than you planned. The scenic landscape and down home people have a way of making visitors feel at home. Entertainment for families and nature enthusiasts make Richland an ideal place to enjoy outdoor activities. Shady Dell Park is the centerpiece of our community hosting the annual Tri-County Fair each summer as well as other family events planned throughout the year. This 20-acre site has all the amenities of a family park plus an Olympic-size pool all nestled among majestic oak trees. Richland boasts of a picturesque golf course that is open to the public. Surrounding Richland are miles of prime Missouri hunting and fishing areas. Richland is also known as the Gateway to the Lake of the Ozarks, a popular Missouri resort area.
